

BRITISH TROOPS NEEDED IN ERIN, LLOYD GEORGE INFORMS COLLINS

Ulster Lacks Information as to Plight of Kidnaped Men; Situation Continues to Bear Grave Aspect

LONDON, Feb. 10.—(By The Associated Press.)—Announcement was made in the house of commons today that Prime Minister Lloyd George had notified Michael Collins, head of the Irish provisional government, that kidnappings in Ireland showed the necessity of the presence of British troops in Ulster.

The situation created by the kidnappings in Ulster continued to bear grave aspect. The northern Irish government had not up to this afternoon received information of the release of the prisoners taken in the recent raids and has no authentic information as to their whereabouts.

CAPTIVES RETAINED.

It was reported from both Dublin and Belfast that many of the men kidnaped in Ulster would be released today, but none except those who reached their homes Thursday, as recounted in previous dispatches, are yet known to be free and the whereabouts of the captives was still a mystery.

Expectation that the men would be released today was apparently based on the report that Michael Collins and other members of the southern provisional government had sent special officers from Dublin to persuade the captors to release their prisoners.

It was questioned, however, whether the provisional government's persuasions would be likely to be heeded in any case as the Irish army nominally is not controlled by the government, but by the Dail Eireann.

WEAPONS DIVERTED.

An article in the Daily Telegraph remarks that if the raids were planned with the connivance of the provisional government, it is obvious that much of the material which was passed to it by the British has reached hands unfriendly to Mr. Collins and his colleagues. It adds that there are many signs that certain border commanders of the Irish republican army who supposedly supported Collins have now thrown their lot with Eamonn de Valera. After further intimations as to the growing power of the republican extremists, the writer says:

"The gunmen are supreme, and if there is an early general election in southern Ireland competent authorities believe the gun will decide the issue in favor of the republican army."

HASTENING ELECTIONS.

The Dublin correspondent of the Times again urges the necessity for Great Britain to quickly pass legislation giving effect to the Anglo-Irish treaty so as to enable the provisional government to appeal to the electorate with the least possible delay. He says it is the belief in Dublin that, according to present plans, the legislation at Westminster will not permit an election in Ireland until the end of March or the beginning of April.

The Morning Post's correspondent says differences of opinion which may have unexpected consequences are developing in the British cabinet as a result of the raids in Ulster and believes urgent instructions have been sent to Ireland to stop further acquisition of British arms and ammunition by the free state authorities.

CONSTABLES AMBUSHED.

BELFAST, Feb. 10.—A party of Ulster special constables was ambushed Thursday evening by 30 men who opened fire on the police car at Caldy, near the Donegal-Tyrone border which today had been the scene of several disturbances. Constable McFadden of Londonderry was shot and killed.

$105 DONATED TO AID RELIEF

Subscriptions Start Coming Into Newspaper Office for Commissary

Subscriptions began coming into the Standard-Examiner business office today to be used for the relief of Ogdens families in distress through the commissary which has been established in the building of the Burton Implement company on Washington avenue.

The money sent is to be used to cover expenses of motor trucks and workers sent out to gather in food, clothing and other supplies that are being donated in the movement and is necessary at once to keep the relief work going.

Every citizen of Ogden is asked to donate either clothing, shoes or provisions to the campaign and the money is being received by the Standard-Examiner business office, while the articles given go to the commissary.

Arrangements have been made so that the gathering of bundles will be done by motor trucks and all persons who have something to offer are urged to call the commissary.

A total of $105.50 has now been pledged in money and additional amounts are needed at once to keep the campaign going to full swing. This money is also being used to buy flour, coal and other necessities for the distressed families.

NAPOLI CASE IS CONTINUED

The case of the city against Tony Napoli, charged with assaulting James Swearingen with a pick handle, was continued in the city court this morning by City Judge D. R. Roberts until tomorrow morning.

Assistant City Attorney Samuel Powell requested that the case be continued in order that he might have an opportunity to examine other witnesses.

The case of Thelma Delaney, charged with petty larceny, was also continued until tomorrow morning.

She was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective W. A. Jones on a complaint of H. W. Bohon, 1769 Grant avenue, who accused her of stealing his watch.

When confronted by Detective Jones the woman denied all knowledge of the theft. Later when Detective Jones confronted her with Bohon she persisted in her denial and it was only when Detective Jones and Bohon returned to police headquarters in order to swear out a complaint against her that she telephoned to them that she had located the watch.

She was then arrested and released later on depositing $25 bail.

The police say that the woman was driven out of Salt Lake recently where she had been arrested as a pickpocket, that she boarded a train with a ticket purchased to Pocatello, Ida., and got off the train when it reached Ogden.

REPORTS ROBBERY OF TWO $50 BILLS

William McManus, residing at the Emma rooming house, 2519 Lincoln avenue, reported to the police that he was robbed of two $50 bills last night.

McManus did not have a very clear idea of how the robbery occurred, according to Detective R. H. Chambers. He said he remembered taking his purse out of his pocket and of laying it on the bed, but does not remember what became of it after that, excepting that he was unable to find it when he awoke. He admitted that he did not lock his door.

RYAN HEARING SET BY JUDGE

Salt Lake Youth to Be Arraigned in Juvenile Court February 18

The case of J. W. Ryan, alias J. W. Rogers, charged with a felony, will be heard before the juvenile court on February 18, Judge L. J. Holtzer announced this morning.

The hearing of the case was set at that time because of a stipulation between County Attorney David J. Wilson and Stuart P. Dobbs, who has been retained to defend Ryan.

When Ryan came before the city court to be arraigned his parents, who reside in Salt Lake, appeared in court with affidavits and records of Salt Lake county to show that Ryan would be 16 years of age on February 25 despite the fact that an uncle of his and the sheriff at Elko, Nev., had in 1917 signed an affidavit that he was 18 years of age and that he had enlisted in the army at that place in 1917.

He was turned over to the juvenile authorities.

Ryan is alleged to have lured Ruby de Waal, 17 years of age, and residing at Salt Lake, to Ogden for immoral purposes.

Both he and the girl were arrested here in a local rooming house. The girl is being held for juvenile court authorities of Salt Lake.

BANKER TALKS TO ENGINEERS

Optimism regarding the future outlook of general conditions in the country was expressed by Warren L. Watts, managing vice president of the Utah National bank, in his address before the Ogden chapter of the American Association of Engineers at the weekly meeting today at the Weber club.

To carry out the idea of his optimistic view of the conditions the speaker cited a number of incidents of the improvement in the conditions throughout the west. These were the improved condition in the price of wool, better outlook for livestock situation and the encouragement which has been given to the livestock industry by the war finance corporation, and a strong improvement in the market prices. He referred to the advance of wheat and the better prevailing prices of potatoes and noted an upward trend in some of the produce prices and the feeling of encouragement by the farmers.

Mr. Watts said that indications point to the early resumption of work in the copper industry which will stimulate all lines of industry and general conditions in this district. In summing up the situation he stated that he thought there was every indication to point to a general improvement of conditions. He closed with a brief review upon the matter of the refunding of the allied war debt by the United States.

President M. D. Williams presided.

AUDITORS NEEDED FOR INCOME TAXES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The collections of the United States internal revenue taxes is a big job. The civil service commission said in a statement issued today that more than 20,000 government employees are engaged in this work, 7500 of whom are attached to the income tax unit. This latter figure includes more than 5,000 auditors and inspectors of income tax returns who are employed in Washington and in the field.

Notwithstanding this large force, the civil service commission states that the bureau of internal revenue needs several hundred more auditors and inspectors for the income tax unit, and that an examination to fill these positions will be held throughout the country on March 8. The estimated salaries offered range from $1,800 to $3,600 a year. Advancement will depend upon demonstrated efficiency.

New appointees are given a six-week course of training in the technicalities of the income tax law and are paid full salary during such instruction.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States civil service commission, Washington, or from the civil service board at the postoffice in any city.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Options held by the Alabama Power company and the Air Nitrates corporation on the Muscle Shoals, Alabama, nitrate and water power projects providing for opportunity to participate in event of decision by the government to sell the properties, were declared non-enforceable today by Colonel John Hull, acting judge advocate general of the War Relocation Authority, in testimony before the house military committee on the Ford offer for the properties.

Colonel Hull read a "decision" of his department holding the options "null and void" and non-enforceable, and added that it was legally possible for the government to give clear titles to the properties concerned, including the War Relocation Authority, the nitrate and water plant and substations, to Henry Ford in event the offer of the Detroit manufacturer was approved by congress.

THREATS MADE AGAINST JUDGE

Tense Situation Exists Among Residents of Oklahoma Oil Town

OKMULGEE, Okla., Feb. 10.—Petitions requesting that a new grand jury be called to replace one discharged Thursday by Judge R. C. Christopher on the ground that it was illegally drawn and tried into the affairs of defunct Bank of Commerce of Okmulgee were being checked by officials today to determine whether they bore the signatures of the required number of legal voters.

The petitions were filed after a mass meeting at which the action of Judge Christopher in discharging the grand jury was denounced and his immediate resignation demanded. The meeting followed a demonstration in superior court where spectators applauded an attack on the decision by James Hepburn, county attorney, and spectators shouted, "Take him out and hang him."

No statement was forthcoming from Judge Christopher other than one made when he discharged the jury—that he believed the men had been chosen by him in a manner different than he now construed the law to provide. Some of Judge Christopher's friends said he had left the city.

Hepburn likewise was silent today and declined to comment on a demonstration last night when 300 Klux Klansmen paraded through the streets with him in their midst. A large banner warning officials to do their duty or leave was borne in the procession which broke up at the Elks hall after which six of the hooded figures conducted Mr. Hepburn to a street corner, motioned the crowd to gather closely and then directed the county attorney to make an address. Hepburn told the crowd that all the laws must be enforced and deplored the courtroom incidents.

An attorney for George R. Short, attorney general, sent here by Governor Robertson to investigate the banking situation, and a meeting of the local bar association tonight to discuss Judge Christopher's action, were other elements which added to the air of expectancy pervading this oil town today.

JAPAN'S LABOR TROUBLE AHEAD

TOKIO, Jan. 12. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The organized labor movement, one of Japan's hereditary serious complications during 1922, particularly for the great landlords according to a Kokusai news agency staff correspondent.

Labor movements, except in isolated instances, were unknown in Japan prior to 1921, labor stood firm for the maintenance of the high wage of more prosperous times, the pledge of a liberal allowance upon dismissal and the right of collective bargaining.

Until the last year the social and labor movements moved hand in hand, but in 1921 there came a separation and labor now has instituted a distinctly individual course in its contest with capital.
